Virginia State University and Dr. Sylvia Jacobsen, were awarded a grant to open a mental health clinic in a small Virginia town. After realizing the town of Mystic Falls had no mental health services, she leased the historical landmarked offices of the late Dr. Grayson Gilbert, and opened Mystic Falls Mental Health. A young man, Stefan Salvatore, begins treatment with Dr. Jacobsen. His intake session reveals he suffers from anger issues, anxiety, depression, "substance" abuse, and an identity crisis that has become unmanageable.

Unbeknownst to Dr. Jacobsen, several of Stefan's "friends" are also seeking treatment. Through her sessions, she's discovered the residents of Mystic Falls are not who or what they appear to be. Nonetheless, she commits to treating them. What you are about to read are Dr. Jacobsen's clinician's notes...taken from her files.
